CLEVELAND'S BISHOP.

Right Rev. Ignatus F. Horstman Elevated to the High Dignity at Philadelphia Yesterday.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25.—With the splendid ceremonies in the ritual of the Roman Catholic church, the Right Rev. Ignatus F. Horstman, chancellor of the arch diocese of Philadelphia, was this morning elevated to the high dignity of bishop of the see of Cleveland. The impressive ceremony was performed in the spacious cathedral in the presence of three arch-bishops, thirteen bishops five monsiguors, hundreds of priests and an immense congregation. Owing to Dr. Horstman's great popularity among people of all denominations in this, his native city, there has been an unprecedented demand for tickets of admittance to the Cathedral, and it was found on Tuesday evening that tickets for every seat in the great diocesan church had been distributed. Many applicants of yesterday and today were, therefore, disappointed in obtaining admission. The consecrator was Archbishop Elder, of Cincinnati, and Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, officiated as celebrant. Cardinal Gibbons pronounced the pontifical blessing, and the sermon was preached by Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia. Tomorrow the new bishop leaves for his diocese in Ohio.

The would-be murderer escaped. It is conjectured that the assault was the result of the factional fueds existing in Bulgaria.

GERMANY IN DANGER.

Her Working People Threaten a Revolution Similar to the Great Paris Riot of 1789.

BERLIN, Feb. 25.—The emperor yesterday, in his speech to the members of the Brandenburg diet, who banquetted him, caused a sensation by remarking that "The people need not care for party squabbling and chattering. I go my way and that is the right way. We are in a state of transition and destined for great things. I'll conduct you into splendid times, and those who will not help me may as well shake the German dust from their feet. I ask you to confide in and help me." But this was as nothing to the sensation which the unemployed laborers of this city created today. That the spirit of discontent is spreading with alarming force throughout the German empire is a fact nobody in their senses will deny. Indeed, few people really imagined the extent of the bitter feeling growing against the emperor who would drive out of Germany or "grind to powder" all those who oppose him.

An instance of the heated though slumbering passions of the masses was exemplified at 1 o'clock this afternoon and should serve as a warning to the advisers of Emperor William. At the hour mentioned a body of three or four thousand unemployed men, by preconcerted arrangement, met in a public square and passed a series of inflammatory resolutions, denouncing the employers and the system of government which enables the latter to crush the workingmen beneath the iron heel of capital, calling upon the government to take steps to protect the interests of the working classes. The news of this bold gathering in defiance of the recent order of the authorities prohibiting such meetings spread with electrical rapidity throughout the city. There were fifty socialist agitators determined to take advantage of the excited unemployed men to make a demonstration before the castle of the emperor.

The police upon the spot tried to argue with the workingmen, but without shaking their determination to carry out the project outlined. They were warned that such a demonstration would probably result in bloodshed, but led by the socialist agitators, the workingmen formed in column and marched from the square mentioned in the direction of Unter Den Linden, the most celebrated avenue in Berlin. The onward sweep of the workingmen was at first irresistable. The police were utterly unable to cope with the roaring, swelling, enthusiastic crowd, shouting and cheering, encouraged by thousands of other people who watched their progress through the streets. "Was it a revolution?" was the question heard on all sides.

On marched the cheering workmen, crying, "To the castle!" "To the castle," in a manner recalling somewhat the scenes in Paris, July 14th and 15th, 1789, when a mob marched upon the great castle prison of France shouting: "A bas la bastile!" "A bas la bastile!" "A bas la bastile," and eventually pulled down that historical pile and conducted its governor and other officers to the Place De La Greve, where their heads were cut off and carried on pikes through the streets. In a somewhat similar fashion these thousands of workingmen, among whom women and children mingled, reached the Unter den Linden, brushing aside like flies the police who attempted to bar their progress.

As they arrived upon the Unter den Linden, beneath the statue of Frederick the Great, a halt was made and a socialist leader made a passionate address to the throng, urging them to carry their demonstration up to the gates of the castle. Loud cheers greeted the suggestion and then at a signal from a prominent socialist, who seemed to be the chosen leader of the mob, the workingmen began singing the "Marseillaise" and marched, cheered by thousands, who had gathered on the broad avenue to witness the demonstration, towards the castle.

The workingmen, passing through the line of police which barred their passage, rolling several policemen head over heels in so doing, had nearly reached the castle gates, where the guards had been ordered under arms and had loaded their rifles with ball cartridges, when a strong detachment of police suddenly threw themselves across the short portion of the thoroughfare intervening between the rioters and the castle, and then, at a sharp word of command, the officers of the law made a determined charge upon the head of the workingmen's column. The latter, for a moment or so, nerved by the roaring cheers of thousands, bravely and stubbornly withstood the attack of the police, and, pressed onward by those in the rear, actually managed to gain headway and beat back the powerful police detachment.

The latter, however, rallied, and, hitting furiously right and left, wounded scores upon scores of workingmen, who fell bleeding beneath the feet of the officers of the law. Somebody among the workmen called upon them to retreat and come again, some other day, and a hundred thousand strong and prepared to meet the "emperor's butchers." A retreat then commenced and soon developed into a flight and into a panic. The police, after taking some eighty to a hundred prisoners, seemed content to allow the remainder to escape, for there was no fear of the rioters, though small bands of them were chased down the side streets and disappeared.

The sixty to seventy wounded rioters who remained upon the field of battle were then attended to at a neighboring hospital and the regular prisoners were placed under lock and key. It was noticed throughout the demonstration of today that the sympathy of the immense crowd of people, rich and poor, who witnessed the workingmen's demonstration, was beyond a doubt with the rioters. They were cheered repeatedly by groups of well dressed people belonging to the upper and middle classes, and were frowned upon only by those moving in government or military circles. The riot of this afternoon is almost the only thing talked about today and is looked upon as a sort of reply upon the part of the people to the emperor's remarks made to the "Lloyd Brandenburgers" yesterday.

The ice, it is admitted, has been broken and the socialist leaders are said to be preparing for a monster demonstration in the near future. The general opinion is that the real struggle between the so-called socialists and the government is about to begin, the signal for it having been given February 4, when it was announced that no members of the socialist party had been invited to the reception given by the emperor to the chamber of deputies, while no discrimination was made against other delegates, though many of them were known to be bitterly opposed to certain government measures. It was then said that the emperor and Chancellor Von Caprivi took this step in order to indicate their resentment for the determined opposition offered by the socialist delegates to the educational bill.

During the passage of workingmen through the streets dodgers outlining the platform of the German socialistic party were freely distributed among the people. This platform is as follows.

Universal suffrage without distinction of sex for all subjects of the empire over twenty years of age; direct elections by the people by secret ballot; the principle of "one man one vote," and biennial parliaments.

The direct participation of the people interested with the right to initiate or reject laws, and the annual revision of the scale of taxation.

A wide extension of the principle of local government and the election of all public officials by the people to whom such officials are to be held responsible.

The training of the people in arms, so as to form a national defence to take the place of a standing army.

The decision of peace or war to rest with the representatives of the people, international disputes to be decided by arbitration.

The repeal of all laws prohibiting or restricting free expression of opinion, or the right of association or public meeting.

Religion to be a matter of private opinion, and all payments of public money for confessional or religious objects to cease, ecclesiastical or religious communities to be considered private associations which manage their own affairs.

The secularization of the national schools.

Free administration of justice.

The abolition of capital punishment.

Free medical assistance, and free disposal of the dead.

A graduated income and property tax and the abolition of direct taxation.

The taking over by the state of all workingmen's insurance agencies.

An unbroken period of rest of thirty-six hours in each week for every workingman.

MUNICIPAL GAS.

Chicago Holds a Mass Meeting, Denouncing the Gas Trust and Advocating Municipal Control.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Had the officers of the various gas companies of the city drifted into Music hall last evening they would in all probability have been mobbed. The populace were there, and Biblical history records that an outraged populace is a dangerous thing to trifle with. It was the meeting of citizens that had been called to protest against the exhorbitant rates charged by the gas companies and the poor service and quality that people are forced to pay for. Washington Hesing presided. He spoke of the previous meeting that had been held at the Sherman house, and told of the methods used by the gas people to increase their profits. He said that they had met to take steps toward the promotion of a Municipal Gas league. Jesse Cox was the main speaker of the evening. "There is but one way to down this monopoly that is robbing us in such a bare-faced way month after month," said Mr. Cox. "I trust you are all with us in that remedy. We must have a municipal gas works. Will you do it?" The crowd responded with a hearty volley of "yeas," that would leave no doubt of their feelings. After passing resolutions bearing on a permanent establishment of a municipal gas plant, the meeting adjourned sine die.

IN A VAT OF ACID.

Horrible Fate of An Employe of the Sulphite Works.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 25.—Perry Mateson, an employe of the Sulphite Fibre works on the river, met a horrible death this morning by falling into a vat of boiling sulphuric acid. The vat is located in the rear of the works and is about five feet deep. It is supposed that Mateson was sitting on the edge of the vat and being overcome by the fumes fell back into the vat. When the body was found it had been terribly scalded by the acid.

GRAY AND FLOWER.

What a Connecticut Man Thinks of the Presidential Outlook After a Tour Through the West.

MERIDEN, Conn., Feb. 25.—[Special.]—"Do I think that Hill will be nominated?" said ex-Collector Byxbee, who since the death of ex-Senator Barnum is perhaps the leading man in democratic politics in Connecticut, to a representative of the New Haven, Conn., News.

The ex-collector had just returned from a six weeks' trip in the west and looked the perfect picture of health, ready to plunge into any democratic campaign, be it either a Hill or Cleveland, Palmer or Boies fight.

"Well," he continued, "the sentiment is very strong for Cleveland, especially in the states west of the Mississippi, just now.

"The Hill boom is in flourishing condition at present in the east, but a trifle shadier than a month ago. Now, what I'm telling you is only based on contingencies that I anticipate. As it looks now, it don't seem as though, when Hill and Cleveland both get before the Chicago convention, it will be advisable to nominate either. Now, of course the democracy, in order to win, must concentrate the fight in New York, Indiana, Connecticut and New Jersey, with the Michigan contingent. All this talk of Boies, Palmer and Russell doesn't amount to anything.

"Palmer's age is against him, and any good sensible democrat knows, or ought to know, that Boies couldn't carry his own state, against the fight which the republicans will make. Perhaps our democratic children can carry Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts and the rest of the 'rainbow states' in a presidential campaign, but our republican friends only laugh at us when we claim anything from the northwest.

"I really believe that Cleveland would poll more individual democratic votes in the country at large than Hill, who, of course, has a sure cinch on New York, which we must have. I hardly think Hill could get Cleveland's vote in our own state. When all this comes before the Chicago convention, as I believe it will, there will be an immediate call for an entirely new ticket, which in my opinion will be headed by Gray, of Indiana, who is where Tom Hendricks was fifteen years ago, and can carry Indiana against any and every republican."

"But," I interrupted, "where are you going to get your vice president?"

"He must be a New York man," said the ex-collector, "and with Hill out of the race and the very man for the second place—I mean Flower—a strong Hill supporter, the way out would seem to be pretty plain. Let me tell you a little ancient history," added the collector, warming up. "You remember that in 1884 Hendricks was a strong candidate for the first place, which fact was very agreeable to 'Tom' Waller, who was with myself on the Connecticut delegation. Hendricks in first place would have given 'Tom' a chance for second place. After the nomination of Cleveland, the Indiana men declared that Hendricks was out of the race for vice president and that under no circumstances would he take the nomination. There was a conference of leading democrats of the country and the call was for Hendricks, but the disappointed Hendricks men were determined to bluff it down. Barnum was there and at a critical point of the discussion he wheeled around and abruptly addressed the group:—'Did you ever in your lives, gentlemen, know of anybody declining a vice presidential nomination? No, nor never will,' he went on. 'Nominate Hendricks and go home. He'll take it.' And he did.

"Now about Flower. Suppose he is Hill's right bower at Chicago, as Garfield was Sherman's in 1880. If the convention wheels around and places Gray in nomination and tenders second place to Flower, mark my words, he'll take it. There your ticket is—Indiana and New York, instead of vice versa. Now, it is a long time yet before the Chicago convention and political slates may suddenly change, but, as it looks now I believe the next democratic presidential ticket will be Gray and Flower."

TYPHUS FEVER

Appears in a Crowded Ward in Bellevue Hospital.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—August Herde, a poor Swiss cook, was admitted to Bellevue hospital on Tuesday, and yesterday he was discovered to be suffering from typhus fever. Herde was located in a crowded ward in the hospital and consternation reigned when the nature of the disease was announced. The hospital authorities have taken prompt measures to prevent the spread of the disease in that institution.

HORSEWHIPPED.

Fifth Avenue the Scene of an "Affair of Honor."

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—E. C. Potter, a nephew of Bishop Potter, was horsewhipped on Fifth avenue yesterday by Lindley Chapin. Both the principals are well known young club men and the episode created great excitement in clubdom. The trouble, it is said, grew out of a defamatory story regarding Chapin which Potter is alleged to have circulated.

TWO OF THEM.

Chili Will Ask the Withdrawal of Harlow and McCreery.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—A special from Valparaiso says an investigation is being made into the authorship of certain dispatches to a New York newspaper from that city. It was found that the messages sent from there to New York were signed "Beamer." This is declared to have been the assumed name of Lieutenant Harlow, the world's fair commissioner to Chili. Valparaiso papers yesterday published the facts in the case and said they could not understand why Lieutenant Harlow, sent to Chili on a mission of peace, should spread such inflammatory news in the United States. Public opinion is considerably excited against Lieutenant Harlow and Consul McCreery.

THE SEAL QUESTION.

Lord Stanley Says the Difficulty Between the United States and Canada is Settled.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 25.—Parliament opens today with the government's majority increased from twenty nine to forty-three, as a result of recent elections. In Lord Stanleys' speech opening parliament, the following reference is made to international questions. "The negotiations with respect to seal fishing on Behring sea have been continued with a view to the adjustment by arbitration of the difficulties which have arisen between her majesty's government and that of the United States on the subject. Commissioners have been appointed by both governments to investigate the circumstances of seal life in the Behring sea, to report thereon and to suggest the measures, if any, which they may deem necessary for its proper protection and preservation. The commissioners are proceeding with their deliberation in Washington and the result will shortly be communicated to her majesty's government. I trust these investigations and the determination of the arbitrators, who are to be appointed, may lead to a just and equitable settlement of this long pending difficulty. The meeting which had been arranged with the United States government for a day in October last for an informal discussion on the extension of trade between the two countries and on other international matters requiring adjustment was postponed at their request, but in compliance with a more recent intimation from that government three of my ministers proceeded to Washington and conferred with representatives of the administration of the United States on those subjects. An amicable understanding was arrived at respecting steps to be taken for the establishment of the boundary of Alaska and reciprocity of services in cases of wreck and salvage. Arrangements were also reached for the appointment of an internal commission to report on the regulations which may be adopted by the United States and Canada for the prevention of destructive methods of fishing and the pollution of streams and for establishing uniformity of close seasons and other means for the preservation and increase of fish. A valuable and friendly interchange of views respecting other important measures also took place."

Secretary of state for the colonies, Lord Knutsford, has transmitted to the governor general a despatch received by Lord Salisbury from Secretary Blaine, protesting, in the strongest terms possible in diplomatic intercourse, against the refusal of the Canadian government to grant copyright to American citizens. Mr. Blaine recites the provisions of the Simonds act of 1891, that the privilege of copyright in the United States shall only apply to such foreign states as grant similar privileges to American citizens. Great Britain, through Lord Salisbury, agreed to this, and declared the law of copyright in force in all British possessions. Mr. Blaine points out that application by Americans for Canadain copyright has been refused by advice of the Canadain minister of justice, and informs Lord Salisbury, in effect, that the refusal of the Canadain government, if sustained, will constitute a breach of faith on the part of Great Britian. Minister of Justice Thompson was interviewed yesterday in regard to the matter and said he did not consider the arrangement with Great Britian as a treaty and consequently the statute law of Canada compelled him to refuse copyright in Canada to a citizen of the United States.

NINETEEN TO SEVEN.

Cleveland is the Choice of the Rode Island Democrats.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 25.—A democratic caucus to elect delegates to the state convention was held here last evening. The new system of conducting the meetings worked perfectly. Nineteen delegates favorable to Cleveland national convention delegates were elected, while the Hill faction elected seven.

DOUBLE MURDER.

Two Bachelor Brothers Found Dead in Their Home.

HOLDEN, Mo., Feb. 25.—News of a dreadful double murder comes from Kingville. Yesterday the bodies of John and Wm. Ayler, both bachelors, were found in the house where they lived, almost cut to pieces. Near by lay an ax, covered with blood. Robbery, it is thought, was the motive for the crime.

MYSTERIOUS.

An Unknown Man Shoots Himself in a Hotel.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Feb. 25.—A man arrived here yesterday and registered at the Atlantic hotel as John A. Lane, of Philadelphia. At midnight he was found dead in his room, having shot himself through the head. The name was evidently assumed as the initials were cut from all his clothing.

Judge Morris has returned from Angola, where he held court.

DECIDEDLY GRAYISH.

Senator I. B. McDonald Favors the Nomination of Ex-Governor Gray as the Democratic Candidate for President.

Col. I. B. McDonald, the editor of the Columbia City Post, and late senator from this district in the Indiana legislature, is in the city today attending the convention of the state farmers' alliance which is being held at the Knights of Labor hall.

Col. McDonald is one of the most prominent democratic editors and politicians of the state and he has been urged strongly to be a candidate on the democratic ticket this year for lieutenant governor.

He was met this noon at the Randall hotel, just after he had entered the dining room and seated himself at the dinner table, by a SENTINEL reporter.

"Will you be a candidate for lieutenant governor?" THE SENTINEL asked.

"I don't know yet," replied Senator McDonald. "I have been strongly urged to allow my name to go before the convention, but I have no ambition for political honors and haven't yet made up my mind."

"What about the congressional race in this district?"

"It seems to be getting pretty interesting. Do you know who is going to win in the fight?"

The reporter confessed he couldn't tell, and then fired at the colonel the question, "What is your opinion of the presidential situation?"

"I can only give you my view of the situation from a close observation and study of the situation during the last ninety days."

"Who do you think the democrats will nominate?" asked THE SENTINEL representative.

"I am satisfied that the rank and file of the democratic party of the country fully endorse the very clean and able administration of Mr. Cleveland. His great courage and manly efforts, while president, to give the people of the country a true civil service and an honest and fair tariff has endeared him to the people. Mr. Cleveland's majority of nearly 100,000 votes over Mr. Harrison in 1888 shows that the masses were in accord with his administration."

"What do you think of Hill's nomination?"

"All must admit that Hill is a great politician, a consumate and courageous manager in political contests—bordering on what might be termed "political audacity." These qualities have made him strong in some quarters, especially with a certain class of politicians. The present situation in the state of New York does not look well, at present at least. Then, this question, can the national democracy afford to take sides or even part in the New York state and personal contest between Cleveland and Hill? It is quite apparent that Hill has the politicians and that Cleveland has the people. Let this be as it may, the great democratic party of the country cannot afford to shoulder the New York fight in the coming contest. It would certainly be bad policy and worse politics."

"The real situation," continued the colonel, "seems to be of such a character that it may not be prudent to nominate either Mr. Cleveland or Mr. Hill at the coming Chicago convention. Then, considering all the matters, would it not be the wise thing to do to nominate some good, safe and solid western man, around whom all could rally."

"Who would it be?"

"Governor Pattison, of Pennsylvania, has shown by his two great triumphs in that state to be a very strong and safe man. If Mr. Harrison should be nominated again by his party then the democracy should nominate ex Governor Gray."

"With Gray and Harrison as the presidential nominees, how would Indiana go?"

"Mr. Gray can carry Indiana over Mr. Harrison. On this proposition there is no question. Ex-Governor Gray is standing aloof from all combinations—hence his real strength."

"Besides Gray, who would be other good candidates?"

"There are many other good men of good standing and great strength in the west, who would be acceptable to the united democracy of the whole union, such as Boies, Palmer, Campbell and Vilas. These are all good, safe and strong men and all sound on the tariff question, which will be the leading issue in the coming contest."

"You think Gray will be the nominee?"

"Yes," was the reply. "The present outlook seems to indicate that ex-Governor Isaac P. Gray, of Indiana, is the coming man for the times. Mr. Gray, with some good eastern man like Russell, Pattison or Slocum, would be a winning ticket. This is all I have to say except that I am for the man who can win the great battle of November, 1892."

MANSLAUGHTER.

For Little Mary's Death Mrs. Montagu is Charged as Above.

BELFAST, Feb. 25.—The examination of Mrs. Montagu, charged with causing the death of her child by cruel treatment, was resumed today. The crowd was so great and the feeling so strong that an extra force of police were summoned from Coleraine to preserve order and prevent undesirable persons from entering the court room. The governess repeated her testimony at the inquest, how the child had committed some trifling misbehavior, for which she had been placed in a dark cell, and how Mrs. Montagu had tied her up and abused her until she died. The result of the hearing was that the charge of manslaughter was sustained and the prisoner remanded for formal trial.

COURT DOCKETS.

The Day Before the 'Squires and the Judges.

Judge Dawson has returned from Angola, where he has been holding court.

The case of Shepley vs. Fulton will be on trial before a jury in the superior court tomorrow.

Julius Lehman and Ellen Isby, Breman Hardesty and Sabina Hardesty, Chas. H. Gieger and Julia Farrot, Geo. E. Ausbury and Lola B. Stout, Herman Straugman and Lucy Schmidt, David Craig and Maude Goss have been licensed to wed.

Claude F. Eme has qualified as guardian of Joseph D. Stutz, giving a bond of $1,000.

A divorce has been granted the plaintiff in the case of Hannah Youngker against Isaac Youngker. The custody of the children was given to the defendant.

Before Justice France Oscar Nestle has entered replevin proceedings against Levi A. Stuck. One team of black ponies, a double harness and a buggy pole were delivered to Nestle. The case comes up Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. M. L. Albrecht says her son, Frank Albrecht, took his own money when he left home and not money belonging to her. He did not get any of the insurance money from his father's life policy. Mrs. Albrecht received a letter yesterday from Frank. He is in Chicago and writes that he is at work.

Before United States Commissioner Leonard, in the United States court room, the case of Jay Cook, charged with selling liquor without a license, was heard yesterday afternoon. The preliminary hearing resulted in the binding of Cook over to jail in the sum of $200, which he furnished. The defendant lives at Kokomo.

Justice Ryan presided at police court this morning. Nellie Wilson and Anna Monroe, two prostitutes, and their companions, John Thompson and Tom Johnson, were fined $5 and costs each. They gave bail when they were arrested and forfeited it. Wm. Suttenfield, a drunk arrested by Chief Wilkinson, was fined $1 and costs and sent to jail. Wm. Carry, drunk, arrested by Officer Romy, suffered the same fate. Wm. Hicky, a vagrant, arrested by Officer Quinn, went to jail for fifteen days.

Justice Hays was busily engaged this morning in figuring upon the number of onions that it would take to cover an acre of ground. His last approximate estimate was 4,239,458,892, provided none of the onions were larger than a half bushel measure. He discovered, however, just about the time THE SENTINEL reporter was leaving the office, that he had made a mistake somewhere in his multiplication, and he went over his work again. Up to the noon hour the 'squire had not finished his computation, but it will be right when he gets through, for Justice Hays is one of the greatest mathemeticians of the age, having recently refused a professorship in Yale college. The 'squire's celery business is too profitable for him to think of leaving Fort Wayne.

Constable Wise is now acting as officer at Justice Ryan's court, where he requests THE SENTINEL reporter to say his friends will hereafter find him.

Constable Louis Schlaudroff has resumed his position in Justice Wilkinson's office. Mr. Schlaudroff, his many friends will be glad to hear, has fully recovered from his recent illness.

THROUGH HER FOOT

Went the Teeth of a Rake Which Mrs. Sinclair Stepped Upon.

Mrs. Thomas Sinclair, of 109 West DeWald street, wife of the Wabash machinist, stepped on a rake while cleaning the yard this morning and one of the prongs of the garden implement penetrated her foot to its full length. The pain was so very exerciating that the lady fell in a faint. D. Komp and Dr. Heaton happened to be passing in a buggy at the time, and alighting from the vehicle, they went to her assistance. The doctor dressed the wound, and the lady is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

COMING WEST.

Jay Gould Starts Out on His Tour of Inspection.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Jay Gould has left the city for an extended tour over his railroads in the west and south. He intends being in St. Louis March 8th, when the annual meetings of the Missouri Pacific and St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railways are held.

The committee appointed to solicit subscriptions of stock for the Milwaukee bridge works enterprise, will start out today or tomorrow with subscription papers, which have been prepared. This committee for the present consists of D. N. Foster, W. E. Mossman, P. A. Randall and E. L. Romy. The bridge company is to be known as the Fort Wayne Bridge and Iron works and the land company to be operated in connection with the company will be called the Fort Wayne Land company. The bridge company will have a capital of $150,000, divided into shares of $50 each and the land company will have $30,000 capital, with its shares at $10 each. A person taking one $50 share at par in the bridge company will be given one $10 share in the land company free, and as the numbers of shares in each company are equal, (3,000), there will be enough land shares to go around to the stockholders of the bridge company.

MUST BOW TO DEATH.

This Earthly Life Must End to All—The Death Record for Today.

At 11 o'clock last night death laid its destroying hand on Moses O. Sanborn, an old gentleman who came here recently from Atwood with his daughter, Amelia, to visit at the residence of J. W. Kehler, of 7 Prospect avenue, who is a relative. Death was due to the infirmities of age and bronchitis. Deceased was born in Vermont and he spent a useful life covering a period of seventy nine years. A son, Henry, now living in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and the daughter, are the only surviving members in the immediate family. Mr. Sanborn was highly respected. The remains will be shipped tomorrow noon to Warsaw, Ind., for interment.

The funeral of Theodore S. Tuttle, the late blacksmith, was held at noon today from the residence, west side of Spy Run avenue, second house north of Randolph street, and at 1 o'clock from the Christian chapel, Jefferson and Griffith streets. The Knights of the Golden Eagle attended in a body.

The funeral of Agnes Garnet Shondel was held at 1:30 o'clock today from 237 East Wayne street and was private, as the disease was diphtheria. Rev. Father Quinlan officiated.

FULL OF FUN.

Queen Esther Lodge D. of R., Will Give a Unique Social.

Invitations have been issued for a social to be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Lipes, 176 West DeWald street, corner of Miner, Friday evening, March 4, 1892, under the auspices of Queen Esther lodge No. 321, D. of R. Music will be in attendance. The committee on arrangements is as follows: A. T. Lipes, Wm. Blondott, T. J. Hammond, B. J. Lytle, Martin Kramer, Wm. MacClelland, Frank Benoy. The following artists have consented to be present: Mr. Fred Urbahns, who has attained quite a local reputation as a soloist and accompanist on the mandolin; Mr. Edward Gilbert, whose skill on the cornet has made him well known in musical circles. Under the sworn promise of special police protection the following persons have consented to donate their valuable services on this occasion: Senor Tomaso Dyer, formerly of Chili, who manipulates the guitar with astonishing dexterity, and until recently connected with the Conservatory of Music at Hadley station. This fact alone endorses Mr. Dyer. (The guests are requested to overlook his nationality.) Prof. Mike Major, the eminent failure on that much abused instrument, the mandolin, will also participate with agility. (Any attempt to assassinate the "Professor" will be fruitless, as he wears a full dress suit of mail.) The event of the evening, however, will be the museum. After a tremendous amount of expense and trouble the committee has procured Signor Julius de Spaghatti to exhibit his grand and unexcelled collection of art and statuary on this occasion. It will be well to bear in mind that this exhibition must be seen to be appreciated. Also, that the Signor will be here but one night only, as he is billed to appear at a matinee on the next afternoon on the Island of Madagascar. The Signor sells no corn cure or tolet soaps; those heretofore having suspicions of that character can now produce the necessary five cents and enter the museum with a feeling of safety to view the most marvelous works of art and statuary now before the public. (Persons feeling dissatisfied with this exhibition will be gently but firmly ejected from the premises.)

Mrs. Catharine Belknap is Stricken Down With Apoplexy.

Mrs. Catharine Belknap, mother of Mrs. George K. Torrence, with whom she lives at 41½ West Berry street, paid a visit to Mrs. Lydia Robinson, of the Woods mansion, on West Superior street, yesterday afternoon. As her visit drew to a close last evening, and while seated at the supper table, Mrs. Belknap was stricken unconscious and fell to the floor. A physician who was quickly summoned pronounced it a case of apoplexy. Owing to her critical condition the lady could not be removed to her home. She has remained in a semi conscious condition since the stroke and her condition grew so much worse this morning that it was thought she could not live through the day. The late husband of Mrs. Belknap was a full cousin of General Belknap.

Will March come in like a lion or a lamb?

It not only rained last night but it poured.

Even the third party has a fight within its ranks.

Two hundred structural iron workers at New Albany are on a strike.

Marble time is here and the great ambition of the average school boy is to be "well up" in the "knuck down" art.

The unpaved streets of this city are in a horribly muddy condition. Vehicles can almost "float in a sea of mud."

The Blaine club in this city continues to exist, although the Plumed Knight announces that he is not a presidential candidate.

The Muncie Times has been enlarged and greatly improved. The Times under the editorial charge of Messrs Wildman and McClung, is giving the people of Muncie a most excellent paper.

Judge Zollars, in his speech last night, to the Railroad Democratic club, advocated the election of the president of the United States by popular vote. This is the proper thing to do, and the people would favor it.

Quincy A Hossler, of the Warsaw Daily Times, informs us that the Northern Indiana Editorial association will meet at Warsaw on March 3, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the National association.

An Indianapolis telegram to the Chicago Inter Ocean, in reviewing the political situation in this state, concludes with the statement that Hon. A. G. Porter will be nominated by the republicans for governor this year.

The chairmen of the different county democratic committees will meet at the Wayne hotel in this city tomorrow afternoon for the purpose of fixing the time and place for holding the democratic congressional convention of this district.

Dwight L. Moody is talked of as Spurgeon's successor at the Tabernacle in London. It is altogether improbable that the great American evangelist will accept the charge of the greatest Baptist church in England. He is too successful in America.

The National Irish League of America has issued an appeal for funds to secure Irish members for the next parliament. According to the English law, no man can be a candidate until he has deposited with the proper officer $1,500 for a borough and $3,000 for a county seat, as the government pays no salary to members of the house of commons. Money enough must be collected for nearly 100 members between now and the general election, if Irish interests are to be represented.

The annual business meeting of the republican editors of the state will be held at Indianapolis tomorrow. The following papers are to be read at the meeting: "Newspaper Ethics," J. F. Moses, Rushville Republican. "The Campaign Cartoon," M. C. Garber, Madison Courier; "Pap, Pap-Suckers and Pap-Dispensers," W. S. Wright, Logansport Journal, "The New Tax Law," J. T. McEnnis, Evansville Standard; "The State Finances," J. C. Ochiltree, Marion Chronicle, "The Gerrymander," W. H. Elliott, New Castle Courier.

The Auburn republican convention will be held one week from today. The Kendallville Sun says: "It now looks as if Noble county will present two candidates at the Auburn convention for delegates to the national convention at Minneapolis in June, R. P. Barr, of this city, and Dr. Carr, of Ligonier. Both are well known in the county. Both are republicans to the core, inside and outside. Both unmistakably for Harrison, even without the resolution which was so unanimously adopted by the Albion convention. No anti-administration man need expect any favors at their hands. Each is for Harrison first last and all the time, while his name is before the convention. It is simply a choice of men and not presidential candidates."

The Y. L. C. club will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Miss Laura Jones, Fairfield avenue.

HON. ALLAN ZOLLARS.

The Judge Delivers a Practical and Interesting Address to the Railroad Democratic Club.

The regular meeting of the Democratic Railroad club was held last evening at the city hall and, by invitation, was addressed by Hon. Allan Zollars. The meeting was called to order by W. H. Ferry, the president of the club and Will C. Bache acted as secretary. After the transaction of routine business and receiving several new members Judge Zollars was called on and delivered what he said in opening was a sort of desultory talk rather than an address, on politics.

He was glad, he said, that the railroad and shop men of the city had a club of this kind. It was right for the laboring element to combine for their own protection. Capital combines for the furtherance of their own selfish interests and there was no reason why labor should not do so. Indeed in this way they could better protect their own interests and unite in waging war against that party which is robbing them every day of a part of their wages.

He said he need not urge upon his hearers the importance of the political campaign upon which the great parties of this country are just about entering. The importance of it is shown by the fact that thus early in the year, with the election nine months away, and snow yet on the ground, both democrats and republicans are active in preparing for the great battle which will be fought and decided at the polls in November.

He felt that the political struggle of this year was an important one, and if the republican party was successful it might be that their supremacy would be established, not only for four years, but for many more to come, hence the necessity of democrats being in earnest and vigilant. It is the duty of every man, he said, to work for the interests of his family and for the elevation of those among whom he lives. The democratic party has ever championed the interests of the people, while for twenty-five years the republican party has advocated and enforced those measures which operate to the disadvantage of the many for the benefit of the few.

The judge then spoke of the vast domain in this country which the republican party had given to corporations—public lands, he said, which had been given to railroads, enough to make nine states as large as Indiana. The largest part of this goes to the capitalists. The party who thus gives away our public domain is an enemy to the people.

He next spoke of their demonitization of silver in 1873 and the result of the contraction of the currency of the country which it had brought about. This was done to benefit the rich, but it oppressed the masses and compelled farmers all over the west to borrow money.

The iniquitous tariff system of the republican party was then dwelt upon. This was another measure intended to benefit the few at the cost of the many, for it takes the hard earnings of the people and places them in the coffers of the few capitalists in whose interest this tariff legislation is passed. The workmen make the wealth of this country, and any system which transfers the money they earn from their pockets into the bank vaults of those who do not work is a sin against the people that should be rebuked. The tariff tax is an insidious robber, for it takes from the poor and gives to the rich. If I had the fixing of tax legislation, the judge said, I would put it on property and make men pay a tax on all incomes of over $5,000. Take off the tariff which those who are struggling for a bare living pay and put it on the rich. If this iniquitous tariff system of the republican party goes on twenty years longer our working people will be but little better than slaves. They will be completely in the power of the few rich men of the country. The speaker wove into his remarks on the tariff question many interesting illustrations of the manner in which the tariff increases the cost of living without giving an increase of wages and spoke so plainly and practically upon the subject that he held the interest of all in his argument.

There is considerable talk now, the judge said, turning to another subject, about electing United States senators by the direct vote of the people instead of through the legislatures of the various states, as they are now chosen. I would be in favor of abolishing our whole electoral system and electing the president of the nation by the direct vote of the people. This is the fair and honest way, for then the chief magistrate would be the choice of the majority of all the voters of the nation.

He then spoke of the new states that had been taken into the union by the republican party for the purpose of perpetuating their power in the electoral college. Some of these states have a population less than the city of Indianapolis, and yet each one of them has a representation in the electoral college almost half as large as the state of Indiana. They were taken into the union because they were republican, but when New Mexico knocked for admission, she was refused because the territory was democratic. This increased electoral vote the democrats must contend against in the next presidential election and every democrat, every man who has the best interests of himself and family at heart, should work to overcome it and do all he can, in an honest way to defeat that party at the polls in November.

He spoke briefly of the bribery system of the republicans in carrying on their campaign work, by flooding the doubtful states with money to buy votes, and closed with words of encouragement to the railroad club.

After the judge's speech, which was eloquent, earnest and practical, and which The Sentinel representative outlines imperfectly, Messrs. Parnan, Rosington and others were called on and responded briefly.

The Bluffton Chronicle says: "John Sale and wife, of Fort Wayne, were guests of his brother James and wife, of West Washington street, over Sunday.—William Robinson was at Fort Wayne the forepart of the week circulating among friends.—Miss Gertie Sturgis was home over Sunday with her parents from Westminster Seminary, Fort Wayne."

HIS SHIP IS COMING IN.

Geo. H. Seabold, of This City, an Heir to Thousands of Acres of Rich Coal Land.

George H. Seabold conducts a restaurant at No. 22 West Main street in this city. In this work he is assisted by his wife and younger sons. Everything about the establishment has the air of thrift and neatness, and hundreds satisfy their hunger daily at the cosy tables laden with substantial fare.

But "mine host" has something else in view, which will turn his attention from the restaurant business, unless he chooses to follow it as a diversion, says the Bluffton Banner, and continuing it says:

"He has been in correspondence for some time with relatives regarding an estate which awaits the heirs of Burkhart Moser, who died years ago, leaving several thousand acres of rich coal lands at Tamaqua, in Schuylkill county, Pa. Moser emigrated from Germany to this country about 100 years ago and accumulated great wealth, but died a bachelor. He had one brother, George Moser, who came to this country later; he left one child, a daughter, who married a man by the name of Christian Seabold and was the mother of a family of ten children, one of whom is George H. Seabold, of Fort Wayne. He then is a prospective heir to the tenth part of his great uncle's estate. The coal lands are operated by the Lehigh Navigation Coal company, but they have signified their willingness to settle without recourse to litigation whenever Seabold and his many nephews and nieces prove that they are really the heirs of Burkhart Moser. This proof will be made, as the evidence is nearly all collected, and everything is promising for a speedy settlement of the whole business. The heirs have contributed to a fund to defray the expenses of a survey of the land and whatever other expenditures may be necessary. There are several thousand acres of the land and its value is estimated all the way from $14,000,000 to $44,000,000. Almost the last obstacle is now removed, and Mr. Seabold is sanguine of winning his part of the estate which at the most moderate estimate will make him more than a millionaire. He has made visits to the place and finds everything as represented. He showed us a large amount of correspondence which indicates that he has a pretty sure thing. Mr. Seabold resided at Vera Cruz for some time, and then removed to Mount Zion, where they lived about eight years. He has been in his present business at Fort Wayne about three years. Two sons are in business in this city. George H., jr., manages the popular Nobby restaurant on North Main street, and Christian conducts the Riverside feed yard. Mr. Seabold goes east again this week, and expects to have all evidence well arranged before his return, and in the spring or early summer the whole business will be closed out."

CHICAGO'S CHAMPION LIFE SAVER.

Heroism and Unselfishness of Captain John Prindiville.

There lives in Chicago a grizzled veteran who has during the half century that he has sailed from that port had the good fortune to save a great many lives from drowning in the treacherous waters of Lake Michigan. This man is Captain John Prindiville, who first went to the inland sea as cook when he was fourteen years old. Before he was twenty he had risen through all the grades and become a full fledged skipper and the master of the schooner Liberty.

From 1855 to 1865 Captain Prindiville and his brother owned and operated the only line of tugs on the Chicago river. In November of 1857 there was an awful storm on the lake and a dozen or more vessels were wrecked and many lives lost just off Chicago. One of these was the Harriet Ross, and her crew with frozen hands and feet were unable to avert the certain doom which seemed waiting for them. Captain Prindiville with the tug McQueen went to their rescue and saved every one. Then he rescued the sailors of the Di Vernon, and later he took from the stranded steamer Cape Horn her crew and passengers. Those who witnessed these life saving feats thought that no human effort could avail.

These heroic acts aroused the citizens of Chicago to express to their fellow citizen some appreciation of his daring and humane conduct. Accordingly a delegation of prominent men, with Stephen A. Douglas as spokesman, invited Captain Prindiville to the Tremont House. There Senator Douglas picked up a purse containing $700 in gold and handed it to the brave sailor, remarking as he did so, "Captain Prindiville, please accept this purse as a small token of the honor and esteem in which you are held by your fellow citizens of Chicago, who, believe me, fully appreciate the gallant deeds you have performed today in the interests of humanity."

Captain Prindiville was embarrassed, though he knew what he wished to say.

CAPTAIN JOHN PRINDIVILLE.

At any rate he refused the purse offered, thanking the senator for the kind words and sentiments he had used. "I cannot be paid," said the captain, "for saving lives. That I account a special privilege, and one for which I am always glad to avail myself whenever the opportunity presents itself. There lies in a jeweler's show window around the corner," he continued, "a gold watch and chain that was offered to me on an occasion similar to this a year ago. I have asked the good people to sell it and turn over the proceeds to the widows and orphans of those who lost their lives in that storm. If my kind friends here will permit, I should like to see this purse of gold distributed among the families of the frozen crew of the Flying Cloud, all of whom perished in the storm of last night and today."

Captain Prindiville was born in Ireland sixty four years ago, but was brought to America when he was eight years old. The family settled on Chicago in 1836 and lived in what was known as the "Prindiville Patch," at Chicago avenue and State street. The captain, with possibly one exception, has been a member of the Chicago board of trade longer than any one else. He became a member in 1856, one year after the organization received its charter.

Can't Cook as Mother Did!

How many a young wife's heart has been saddened by hearing the above remark! And yet how often the words are true; especially when cake, pastry or biscuit are in question! The reason is plain, yet it is "like telling a secret."

Our mothers used and are using Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. They cannot be misled into using any of the ammonia or alum powders. No dyspepsia no sallow complexions, when mother did the cooking.

The first symptoms of ammonia poisoning, says a New York paper, which appear among those who work in ammonia factories, is a discoloration of the nose and forehead. This gradually extends over the face until the complexion has a stained, blotched and unsightly appearance.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the only pure cream of tartar powder that contains the whites of eggs.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from Ammonia, Alum, or any other adulterant. In fact the purity of this ideal powder has never been questioned.

During the illness of Tine Kretsinger John McCarty is operating the large drill in the car machine room, on Lafayette street.

Adam Mulitor, of the Pittsburg car shop, this morning returned from Chicago, where he witnessed the marriage of his daughter, Anna.

Christian Shafer, of the east shops, had one hand fearfully lacerated and crushed yesterday. Several fingers may have to be amputated.

Jack Connors resigned his position in the air brake department of the Pittsburg shops this morning and will engage in business on Calhoun street.

S. L. Gorsline received a postal from his nephew, who lives at Walkerton, Ind., stating that Mr. Gorsline's mother has suffered a relapse and is again quite ill

Tomorrow evening the trainmen will give a grand ball at Randall hall, and Monday evening occurs the grand benefit ball of the employes of the organ factory.

James Ryan, of the Pittsburg machine shop, is off duty on account of an accident. Yesterday a hand cart loaded with iron ran over and injured one of his feet severely.

Joseph Weideman is quite ill, A few weeks ago he was taken with la grippe and before fully recovered he returned to his work in the Pittsburg shops and was again taken sick

Ticket Agent Ross, of the Pittsburg, reports west-bound-traffic on the increase. He sold a number of tickets to parties bound for Kansas, Nebraska and other western states today.

A. S. Work, road foreman of engineers on the Nickel Plate, did not return home yesterday as expected, but remained at Stony Island to meet the officials, who are out on their periodical inspection tour.

J. C. M. Baker, ticket receiver at this point for the Pennsylvania company, returned from Philadelphia yesterday and reported for duty this morning. During his absence George Henderson had charge of the receiver's office. The latter left for his home in Pittsburg last evening.

Engineer J. A. Misner is sick and off duty. Engineers R. M. Jones and G. Kensill, the latter sick two weeks, and Fireman J. C. Snyder, reported for duty this morning. All are working on the Pittsburg road

The Lake Shore lately issued a circular to trainmen that the cases of accidents by reason of split switches shows a large increase, and that negligence of employes in this respect means immediate dismissal.

A special vestibule train will be made up between Fort Wayne and Chicago for the accommodation of Knights Templar between the two points who desire to attend the great triennial conclave, to be held in Denver next August.

The branch of the Erie road running from Jersey City to Newark, which W. W. Worthington has under construction, will be completed and ready to turn over to the company next week. Mr. Worthington was registered at the Aldine yesterday. He was en route from Chicago to New York

There is a noticeable falling off in east bound freight on the Pennsylvania and Nickel Plate roads. Each accuses the other of cutting rates from Chicago to the seaboard and the result of the controversy is watched with interest by shippers, who are holding back expecting cheaper rates shortly.

The Logansport Journal says: "The Panhandle put on a train between New York and St. Louis, Monday, which is said to be the most beautiful train in the world. It consists of one first class coach, one parlor smoking car, a dining car and a sleeper, all vestibuled. The aisles are carpeted and the ceilings are covered with damask silk The cost of the entire train is $250,000."

Yesterday J. H. McVeigh, night yardmaster of the Nickel Plate, assumed the duties of assistant to Yardmaster Grable, a position which has been vacant ever since the death of N. W. Lancaster, some time ago. The appointment falls to a worthy man and we refer to it with pleasure. Peter Slaudorf had been acting in the capacity of assistant yardmaster, but was never regularly appointed to that position Frank Buscha succeeds Mr. McVeigh on the night force.

That wily little rascal, Cupid, is at his old tricks again and a popular machinist in the Pittsburg shops and the charming daughter of a well known Nickel Plate engineer are said to be hopelessly entangled in the meshes of the matrimonial net. The wedding has not been announced but it is expected to come off soon after lent The prospective bride and groom have suddenly become deeply interested in carpets and furniture and frequent accidental (?) meetings in the leading furniture stores, followed by strolls towards the young lady's home, are taken as evidence that they are matrimonially inclined.

Conrad Cooper' who was off duty on account of blistered hands, and Walter Cross returned to their work in the Pittsburg shops this morning. The serenely happy look in the latter's eye last week was noted by the boys in the shop, one of whom hands us the following: "The services of Dutch Pete have once more been called into requisition. This time Walter Cross was the cause of it all No one could decipher the beautiful smile that has long adorned his features. Pete finally captured one of the wrinkles from Walter's face and took it to the labratory, where, after a careful analysis, he found 'wedding' all through it. And before this has reached the eyes of the public Walter has no doubt taken unto himself a fair young lady of Lima to share his joys, woes, family cares and cash"

The reduced rates and enlarged privileges for clergymen who travel on the Pennsylvania lines are more extensive than at first supposed The arrangement will apply to all tickets sold on the Pennsylvania railroad lines east of Pittsburg and Erie as well as to the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, so that a clergyman may not only be able to secure a ticket at half fare between any stations east of Pittsburg and Erie, but may enjoy the same privileges in the purchase of a ticket to Cleveland, Chicago, Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, or intermediate points In this connection it might well be mentioned that some friction has arisen between the Pennsylvania and the Big Four lines as to which of the systems made half rates to clergymen, the Big Four claiming that they were the first to do so.

The S. F. Bowser Oil Tank company will on March 15 commence the manufacture of dust pans This branch of industry makes an increased capacity of their works necessary and the present plant will be enlarged to a considerable extent. Mr. Bowser informs a Sentinel reporter that the working force in his establishment will be largely increased and that the number of traveling salesmen will be nearly doubled. The dust pan is the invention of H. B. Austin, who sold the patent right to the Bowser company for the handsome sum of $17,000. It is simply a pan made after the ordinary pattern, but so arrange that it can be attached to a common broom, where it rests during the sweeping process and is always at hand when needed. Dies for making the pans have been ordered and as soon as they arrive business will be pushed with the characteristic energy of the firm. Messrs. Bowser will sell direct to the retail trade.

NATURAL GAS.

It Can be Frozen and Transported Anywhere.

Frozen natural gas will probably be the fuel of the future in districts remote from the gas fields James Brown, a prominent citizen of Blackford county, was in the city today, and in conversation with a reporter related a little incident at Mill Grove which came under his observation and which may result in bringing into existence a new and very remunerative industry to the natural gas fields A service line of natural gas had frozen, and a joint of pipe was detached. The workingmen pounded on the pipe and a cylinder of ice about a foot in length dropped out. One of the men picked it up and applied a match and the ice burned like a torch. The idea suggested is that natural gas may be frozen and transported, and capitalists are now making investigations with that end in view if the process should prove practicable.

Last evening, at the home of Master John Cummings, an enjoyable surprise party was given. Different games were indulged in and at 9:30 o'clock an elaborate supper was served. Those present were: The Misses Katie Cummings, Annie Rosenberger, May O'Brien, Bertha Scott, Emma Hanley, Alice Ryan, May Bear, Josephine Selbst, May Slagle, Lillie Kanne, Ollie Casey, Emma Connors, Erma Hanson, Carrie Ewald and Ida Kanne, and Masters Otto Rost, Willie Rost, Willie Slagle, Frank Casey, Jimmie Leach, Dell Ford, Willie Scott, Willie Connors and Henry, John and Ray Cummings.

On the Way to Paradise.

Let us hope that the people who habitually disregard their health will reach that desirable place, and avoid the locality which is less desirable as an eternal residence on account of the heat and surroundings generally. But while we tarry in this vale of tears, why should we voluntarily endure the tortures of dyspepsia when a systematic use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will rid us of the atrocious malady which unless physicians are very much at fault—tends to shorten the term of our existance. Heartburn, billousness, constipation almost always accompany this complaint and are symptomatic of it. These are all extinguished by the bitters, which also conquers completely malaria, rheumatism, nervousness and debility. Since the appearance of la grippe it has shown a singular mastery over this formidable complaint that has carried off so many of our brightest and best.

E. Burns, on the prosecution, created quite a sensation by their eloquent pleas in the court scene. Throughout the play there is a delightful vein of comedy work, the audience being kept in good humor by P. J. Bresnihan and Frank J. Fry, as the eccentric sports. To D. J. McKendry a good deal of credit is due for the stage management, he having that responsibility in addition to the rolé he assumed. Several Couples Plight Their Troths—Amsbary-Stout Nuptials.

At 5.30 o'clock this evening will occur the nuptials of George Edward Amsbary and Miss Lola Stout, the ceremony to be performed at 87 East Jefferson street. It will be a quiet wedding. The bride elect, a winsome and accomplished young lady, formerly lived in this city but for two years past resided at Bloomington, Ill., where she was head milliner for Wilcox Bros. It was while thus engaged that she first met Mr. Amsbary, who holds a lucrative position in the same house. It was here that their acquaintance ripened into a mutual confidence and love that led to the courtship and happy climax of this evening. Miss Stout will be remembered as a musician of some local note, and she was always foremost in affairs pertaining to the welfare of the Christian church. She is amiable and womanly and will prove a devoted helpmate. Mr. Amsbary is a handsome and worthy young man. The bride and bridegroom will leave over the Wabash at 8.17 this evening for Little Rock, Ark., and southern cities, returning to Bloomington to reside. Among the guests present will be Miss Amsbary, a sister of the groom, and Mr. Cramer, of Bloomington; Mrs. H. A. Rodabaugh, of Englewood, Ill., and A. B Stout, of Chicago.

Rev. Reed, pastor of the Christian church at Huntington, will perform the ceremony.

At 6.30 o'clock this morning, in the Cathedral, occurred the marriage of Miss Julia, the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Parrot, to Charles Gelger, both of this city. The attendants were Miss Eliza Gibson and Con Schuler. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride on Oak street, where they partook of a wedding breakfast. At 11 o'clock the bride and groom left for Chicago. The contracting parties are popularly known, the bride having been a clerk for H. H. Barcus for seven years, and the groom being a bookkeeper at the Berghoff brewery. They will reside on East Washington street.

Invitations will be issued for the marriage of Miss Clara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Heilbroner, to Albert Copinus, the ceremony to take place Sunday evening, March 27, at 6 o'clock. A reception will be given at Standard hall. The bride-elect is a favorite in Hebrew society circles and the groom is a traveling salesman for Pottlitzer Bros.

David Croy, the electrician at the Institute for Feeble Minded, stole a march on his friends by taking unto himself a fair maid of Churubusco, Miss Tina McCarthy, the marriage taking place last Tuesday evening. Just to even things up a large number of the groom's friends gathered at his cottage on Spy Run avenue last evening to shower congratulations upon the couple. During the evening the institution band rendered a delightful serenade.

Insurance Department of the State of New York.

ALBANY, N. Y., FEB. 18, 1892.

I, James F. Pierce, Superintendent of Insurance, hereby certify, that, after a thorough and complete examination of the assets and liabilities of the American Casualty Insurance and Security Company of Baltimore City, made by the examiners appointed on behalf of this department, as of 31st of December, 1891, I find the financial condition of said company to be as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Total Assets | $2,208,599.07 |
| Total liabilities, including $1,000,000.00 capital | 2,133,716.22 |
| Surplus beyond all liabilities | 74,882.85 |

The net surplus shown in the company's statement is $158,280.49, while on the above statement it is only $74,882.85, the difference being caused by increasing the unearned premiums $67,097.64 according to the ruling of this department.

The Maryland Commissioner does not require that the sums paid by persons taking out policies on steam boilers for inspection shall be included in the premiums paid, or form any part of the basis for the calculation of the reserve. This department adopted a different rule some years ago, and includes the inspection charges in its computation of reserve, and the addition to the reserve, is caused by adherence to this rule.

I have also added a further liability to unpaid losses of $15,300, it being the rule of this department to require companies to charge the full amount of all outstanding losses until finally settled, judicially or otherwise.

[Signed] JAMES F. PIERCE, Superintendent.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT OF MARYLAND, J. FRED. C. TALBOTT, COMMISSIONER, BALTIMORE, FEB. 8, 1892.

Talbott, hereby certify, that, after thorough and complete examination of the assets and liabilities of the American Casualty Insurance and Security Company of Baltimore City, made by the Examiner appointed on behalf of this department as of 31st December, 1891, the printed statement hereto attached has been found to be correct in every particular, and in accordance with the laws of the state of Maryland.
